DEGREE OFFERED
Master's of Business Administration, Sports Business

The Sports MBA program at San Diego State University offers an accelerated, accredited MBA curriculum focused entirely on the sports industry. Our location in Southern California provides faculty with real world industry examples for use in the classroom and offers students internship and job opportunities with hundreds of sports organizations.

The program prepares students for the ever-changing sports business marketplace. SDSU also hosts an annual sports-focused case competition for MBA programs, attracting some of the world's elite graduate business students.

DEGREES OFFERED

B.S. in Sport Management
M.B.A. in Sport Management

The Stillman School of Business prepares students for exciting careers in the multi-billion dollar sport industry. Unlike other traditional education, hospitality or tourism degrees in sport management, the Stillman sport management degree is a B.S.B.A. Offerings also include an M.B.A., a J.D./M.B.A. or an advanced certificate.

Just 14 miles from New York City, students have access to more sport industry internships than any other business program in the country. Courses cover all areas of business and prepare students for positions in sport management organizations; sport marketing firms; licensing and apparel marketing; radio and television programming; and events and facilities management.

Preston Robert Tisch Institute for Global Sport

- NEW MS in Global Sport
- MS in Sports Business
- BS in Sports Management

The NYUSPS Preston Robert Tisch Institute for Global Sport has three degree programs—the NEW MS in Global Sport, the globally-ranked MS in Sports Business, and a BS in Sports Management. All three programs are focused on the change forces that are transforming the sports industry—sports technology and innovation, globalization, and the changing motivations and behaviors of Millennial and Gen Z sports fans. The MS in Global Sport is presented in a unique 16-month format that combines online coursework with four 1-week global residencies, allowing busy working professionals from around the world to form a unique cohort of future global sports leaders. Our globally-ranked MS in Sports Business draws on our NYC location, in the sports capital of the world, and features courses such as the Business of eSports, and numerous sports analytics courses. A BS in Sports Management is available for undergraduate study. All of our programs are based on our industry-driven curriculum, a focus on experiential learning, deep industry connections, and an outstanding track record of job placement of our graduates. The Tisch Institute is deeply committed to the transformative power of sport and provides platforms for students to create social change.
