"Columbus has been at the forefront of Ohio's COVID-19 response with government officials taking early action to lock down the state. This proactive response, along with guidance from top health officials to reopen responsibly, has placed Columbus at the center of a state experiencing a plateau in reported cases and decrease in hospitalizations. Columbus boasts five distinct urban districts that give our city a lively entertainment scene filled with a unique mix of restaurants, attractions, stores and more. Our compact footprint offers the NHL effortless walkability within their own "Olympic Village" setting. Premier attractions in the city include toprated science center COSI and a nationally recognized zoo. The city offers an elite array of golf courses, with four courses ranked in the nation's top 100, two of which rank amongst the best in the world, and more than 60 public courses. Greater Columbus is home to 13 ice rinks that are owned or operated by the Columbus Blue Jackets or Ohio State University. The two entities also partner in the management of Nationwide Arena, making for seamless use of all practice sites and game day facilities" -- Greater Columbus Sports Commission Exec Dir Linda Logan.
